

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A radiation-curable resin composition comprising (A) 0.1-10 wt% of a compound including a phosphite group and a phenolic hydroxyl group was found to have excellent storage stability, produces a cured product which excels in durability and generates only a small amount of hydrogen gas, and is useful for coating optical fiber.